It is convenient when the serial number and access code is accessed through the MapInfo that all the details required by the License Server can be changed. A blank "Access" field is needed to provide the name that the license server will associate with the Access Code. It is recommended that the Access Code matches a unique name that is easy to remember and/or recognize.

When the Access Code is not known, you can use the "Access number generator" found in the following menu. The Access Code found in the following "Access number generator" menu can be matched with a unique name. The next step is to provide a name for the Access Code. To confirm the name, click the "Pick name" button. The name is written in the field so that you can save the name for later use. If you wish to use another name for the Access Code, choose another name from the drop-down list. After you have provided a name, click on the "Save" button to save your choices. The name will not be saved until you click the "Save" button. Powered by WordPress. The first time that the License Server is used, all users in a multi-user environment will be prompted to accept the license agreement before the license can be installed. With the serial number and Access Code provided, all of the details will be stored in the Windows registry for use in the future. Find this article helpful? Let us know It
