Q: How to call ngStyle from another angular template? In my project i have 2 templates. one is main template, the another is about template with all three buttons and a view. When the user click the button called "view", view.view.html template should show up. However, view is undefined there. Could you tell me how to get hold of ngStyle directive to access "font-size" from view.view.html in MainCtrl of main.html template? Thanks in advance! here is my views: MAIN.HTML
