I am currently paying to have my kitchen refitted. I have been.Fast and precise determination of vitamin D3 in milk by LC/MS/MS. Vitamin D(3) (D(3)) and its metabolites are precursors of the 1α,25-dihydroxyvitamin D(3) (1α,25(OH)(2)D(3)) and 3-epi-25(OH)D(3), which function as hormones that regulate mineral and bone metabolism. Accurate determination of D(3) content in milk is necessary for cost-effective and safe dairy production. In this study, a rapid and sensitive liquid chromatography-tandem mass spectrometry (LC/MS/MS) method was developed to determine the D(3) concentration in milk. The milk samples were prepared using protein precipitation with methanol, and the separation was performed on an Agilent Eclipse Plus C18 (2.1 × 50 mm, 1.8 μm) analytical column using a gradient program. D(3) was quantified with a multiple reaction monitoring mode and the matrix-matched standard calibration curve. The regression coefficient of the D(3) calibration curve was 0.9998. The limit of detection was 0.01 ng/mL, and the limit of quantification was 0.05 ng/mL. Recoveries were from 79.25% to 112.33% and the coefficient of variation was less than 13.83% at three levels. All these results suggest that the method was both sensitive and accurate. The method was applied for the analysis of milk samples from cows fed different kinds of diets. The results indicated that the feeding of vitamin D-based dietary supplements can increase the D(3) content of milk compared to that of untreated cows.You Might Also Like Great potential for the student entrepreneur who loves to make things.
