We're about: Welcome to the Tucson, Arizona Contact Group! We're a group of musicians in the Tucson, AZ area that get together and jam and just have fun. The activity ranges from mini jam sessions to on-going weekly or bi-weekly jam sessions. We meet in the Tucson area and play a wide variety of musical styles. The Contact Group is just one activity of many that we engage in. Other activities include concerts, jam workshops, jam parties, and festivals. Come join us! To start a new group or to join one, please contact us by message board, email, or telephone. We can help you make your group safe and fun. Remember that our groups often travel and attend other groups' events! You must be over 18 to participate! We'd love to hear from you and get to know you. Click here to send us an email, join our Facebook group, or join our mailing list. We'd like to hear from you! Please join us in this exchange of music, ideas, and passion. We really look forward to talking to you. (I have to admit that my iTunes has several my 160's and with FLAC stored in the cloud, it doesn't look like a loss at all.) On a different topic, I'm trying out a Linux (Ubuntu) server. While I've got a CD burner working through the USB port, I don't have a program to write the whole CD that I get from CDExpert.exe. So now I'm going to see if I can get from the Ubuntu server. I've had flac files on my hard disk for quite some time now. At first I used samba to share them and moved them on- and off-line for re-encoding and ended up with 320kbps lossless. Now
