A: You need to remove the HTML tags, which contains the data you want. Also add the `html_strip_all_tags` filter before the print statement. #N.B. | This filter does not preserve the HTML formatting, do not use for text lines #N.B. | This is to protect the output and you can go with just print statement `print(request.GET.get('page'))` filter_html(BeautifulSoup(html_strip_all_tags(request.GET.get('page')),

'html.parser').findAll('div', attrs={'class': 'product-listing'})) print(request.GET.get('page')) A:
You can just use strip_tags() to strip the HTML tags. from bs4 import BeautifulSoup import requests import re import json r = requests.get( " , headers={"user-agent": "Mozilla/5.0
(Windows NT 10.0; WOW64) AppleWebKit/537.36 (KHTML, like Gecko) Chrome/47.0.2526.80 Safari/537.36"} ) b = BeautifulSoup(r.content) for i in b.find_all('p', class_="product-name"):
print(i.text.strip()) #John Adams #-255 If you do not want to use BeautifulSoup, you can use lxml and xpath to parse the HTML and return the text node, like this: from lxml import html r = requests.get( " , headers={"user-agent": "Mozilla/5.0 (Windows NT 10.0; WOW64) AppleWebKit/537.36 (KHTML, like Gecko) Chrome/47.0.2526.80 Safari/537.36"} ) html =
html.parse

This is not possible, the reason is that the operating system does not allocate memory for variables in the same space as threads. One thread will have a pointer to your stack variable. Other threads will not, and the other pointers will all be stale. Q: In App Purchases: Allow non-consumable products? I have a very short question. Does In App Purchase need to be consumable? The app is a song player. I don't want it to be a consumable item. If someone unlocks a song, he/she can keep it for the rest of the session (as long as there's a connection). If they want to unlock another song, they'll have to pay for that as well. I've found a related question here: Is it possible to make an iOS app that can be bought and then played? (consumable product) But that wasn't exactly the same. Thanks! A: Does In App Purchase need to be consumable? Consumables, as a type of product, are defined by the developer. In App purchases are defined by Apple, and are not limited to being consumables. I have a very short question. Does In App Purchase need to be consumable? I have read the iTunes Connect guidelines: App Store Requirements: If you wish to use in-app purchasing for your product, you must follow these guidelines. Consumables: A consumable product can only be purchased once. If a user purchases a consumable product from within your app, your app will be automatically disabled for a period of time after the first use. The length of this time period is based on the number of days before the consumable product expires. For more information about consumable products, see In-App Purchase Programming Guide. Non-consumable products: Non-consumable products are available for purchase multiple times within your app. After a user has purchased a non-consumable product, you can disable your app for a period of time. If a user restarts your app during this period, the product will not be available for purchase and the user will not be charged. The invention relates to a process for producing enantiomerically pure organic compounds and to novel intermediate compounds for use in such a process. Several Oggi la Gran Bretagna ha detto sì e quindi è chiaro quello che succederà: tutte quelle piccole economie nei paesi di lingua inglese potrebbero negoziare con Bruxelles il cambio delle loro monete in euro entro fine marzo, in cambio del prestito fisso che i propri banchieri gli hanno promesso. La raffinata manovra euroscettica dei banchieri. Ma Bruxelles verrà oggi mandata a chiedere maggiori soldi da parte dei Paesi Bassi, che nei prossimi giorni arriveranno a credere di possedere la Grecia ancora sotto il tutto. E per l'Italia?
