Various techniques are known for loading and unloading animals from transport trucks of the type used in the meat packing industry, such as disclosed in U.S. Pat. No. 3,356,408, issued on Dec. 5, 1967. In such conventional devices and methods, the animals are presented for loading into the truck in a crowded, low-ceilinged, unsanitary, and poorly lighted area of the packing plant. The animals are subsequently unloaded into a still crowded, low-ceilinged, unsanitary, and poorly lighted area, where they are typically confined with low-enclosed pens. The animals must be fed and watered at these locales, and must be bathed and/or physically manipulated after such confinement. In recent years there has been some criticism of the packing industry for the inhumane handling and treatment of animals in the packing industry. One approach in an attempt to alleviate these criticisms has been to develop a loading and unloading assembly, as shown in the aforesaid U.S. Pat. No. 3,356,408, that would transport the animals to a separate loading area on the plant grounds prior to their placement within the truck, to allow the animals to be loaded in an environment somewhat removed from the other packed animals, and to allow the animals to be unloaded in an environment that is not as crowded, unsanitary, and poorly lighted as the primary

Celador is a high-fantasy MMORPG set in a rich world inspired by the myths and legends of our ancient past. Character classes are centred around four primary schools – Fighter, Mage, Priest and Rogue – reflecting the four elements of creation in a setting where magic is more a part of everyday life than fantasy. Celador balances an ingenious combat system with a highly customizable character creation and allows players to play as either a Warrior, Wizard, Seer or Assassin. Players can choose from a variety of class-specific sub-schools, allowing for a variety of playstyles and specializations. Each class features new skills, new abilities, new gear and new drops, unique to that school. Unlock your destiny with a combination of well-crafted gear and power-ups, which can be traded using a fixed point-based market. The rich world of Celador is ripe with adventure; learn to harness your powers, master the depth of your skills, and explore the secrets of the open world!(Photo: Screenshot/YouTube) In a ruling on Monday, the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces concluded that the commander at Travis Air Force Base in California violated the law by firing a member of the Air National Guard who was forced to deploy to

Kuwait for a year during the Iraq War. This year, the Air National Guard was forced to deploy 200 members to Kuwait because of the ongoing war with ISIS. As BuzzFeed reports, when Maj. Vaughn Stewart was forced to choose whether to serve in Iraq or Kuwait, he picked the latter. While serving in Kuwait, Stewart was reprimanded after he recorded footage of the deployment on his phone. The footage was deemed a “classic example of a service member using his or her government-issued smartphone to engage in conduct unbecoming an officer.” After this reprimand, Stewart was ordered to “reassign to Iraq” and did not get an honorable discharge or a reduced rank. While Stewart’s commander, Col. Stephen Swiger, agreed that he could be tried and punished in absentia, after legal challenges Stewart appealed his case. After reviewing the matter, the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces ruled that not only did Stewart’s commander inappropriately fire him but that “it is clear that his discharge was unlawful.” As BuzzFeed reports, a similar case from 2009 found that the commander at a naval air station in Florida wrongfully discharged a sailor who violated
