What's new:

, also known as the, is a Japanese manga series written and illustrated by Kōzō Kusuba. The series first premiered in Shogakukan's Weekly Shōnen Sunday in February 2001 in the "Sunday Manga" magazine section. The manga was adapted into an animated television series of the same name and was broadcast on TV Asahi starting in April 2001. Although it was made into a TV series, it never had an anime adaptation. On January 18, 2013, the manga was licensed in English by Media Blasters and released in North America on February 28, 2013.

Story The story centers on the high school students of Minamikayama High School in the Tōkyō Metropolis (a reference to the real-life Kanagawa Prefecture), where living next-door has allowed the school to build amazing technologies, which the super-aligned students constantly study and build together. The main character is a young member of an antimatter reaction team known as a "Menka Denki", (lit., the "black hole enhanced" individual) symbolized by the number 0001, which was originally the fourteenth member of their team. Many of his teammates have a black heart, indicating their status. While the leader of the Menka Denki has a black heart with a picture of the Eastern star on his B.T.-02 device (a parody of the then-current PlayStation Portable), 0001 has a blood-red heart with a blue triangle on it.

Beginning One Year Prior The main setting of the story centers on the first year of a group of mysterious young men spending the second year of their high school at Minamikayama High School. According to their custom, each of the boys is given a number to signify their position within the Menka Denki, so you can say Blackheart 0001 is the leader, Gemini 010 is his leader's second, Blackheart 010 is his second-ranked cadet, and so on. The story begins during a sort of military drill rehearsal in which Blackheart 0001 and others are giving chase after what appears to be a large object similar to a helicopter flying away. Blackheart 010 then makes a big equipment the size of a tank around a cylinder. Blackheart 010 blows a hole in the bottom of the cylinder when it starts to fly away by himself. While they focus on thinking on how they should stop this equipment that looks very similar to the Ark, one of their research

The very different strengths of the many divisions of basketball have been taken into account in this game; with 4 separate leagues for the college and pro championships, a Winter league with a shorter schedule, and even the NABP circuit. Each of the leagues has its own unique characteristics and rules which have been carefully taken into account by the developers; for instance a college division which requires playing on campus, or a pro league which has players more readily available. Each player has been created based on a rigorous study of their physical and mental traits, and you will find that your own professional team has a national personality as different from the other leagues as those of your opponents. School teams are subject to preseason workouts, practice and coach recruitment, as are professional teams. Your players receive their daily workouts in order to ensure their peak performance, and will not be afraid to voice their opinions when you disagree with them. Received criticism is received and acted on with the use of the coaching staff. You can also practice tactics using team-specific pre- and post-game presentations, which have all been worked out with a great deal of attention to detail. The entire game, from the players' training to the press conferences and the coach's conference, is a pleasure to play, as it has been designed in cooperation with teams and sports journalists. The hardest and most effective decisions are based on players' availability and contracts, and there are lots of options to take into account: all coaches are contractually tied to their clubs, and you can draft, trade or sign players at any time. In order to help you avoid running over your budget, the game features a robust management system with two budget areas, an advance and a pay roll, that allow you to maximize earnings. The game features a sophisticated visual interface that allows you to quickly access information at any time, customize the game as you wish, and check the status of your team with a few clicks of the mouse. All in all, the game is packed with features: team documentation, scouting, player management, tactics, and the database editor all come complete and ready for use. How to Play Take on the role of a basketball coach: You will find yourself in charge of a team, including a mascot. Build a winning team with the best players and ensure your fans support you. Be sure to coach your team to success in the regular season, and at the same time maintain a balance between training and practicing, and maintaining your team's Intention to be vaccinated against Influenza in the European Union: A Qualitative Analysis, 2013-2017. The European Union (EU) was the first to establish a plan to estimate the proportion of unvaccinated individuals among people aged 18-64 living in the EU. While there has been increased emphasis on seasonal vaccination since influenza vaccine recommendations were first issued in 2008, only a few countries have pursued regular influenza vaccination in the population [corrected]. Systematic monitoring of vaccination uptake has been suggested by the World Health Organization to help countries adapt their immunization policies, but few data are available on this subject. The aim of this study is to provide a short description of changes in vaccination coverage among the EU27 Member States from 2013 to 2017. In 2016, 27 Member States conducted a cross-
